The Age of Perplexity: Rethinking the World We Knew

Please join the Atlantic Council for a public event, "The Age of Perplexity: Rethinking the World We Knew," co-hosted by BBVA and the Elcano Royal Institute on November 6, 2018 from 9:30 a.m. – 12:45 p.m. The event will be held at Atlantic Council headquarters (1030 15th Street, NW, 12th Floor, Washington DC 20005).

Technological revolution and globalization have opened up the "Age of Perplexity." This new age is defined by rapid and vast changes in the economy, politics, society, and daily life. Mass migration, climate concerns, populism and anti-establishment movements, authoritarianism, digital disruption, economic inequality, and demographic change all present serious challenges to the liberal world order.

At this critical juncture, the Atlantic Council, in partnership with BBVA and the Elcano Royal Institute, will host a public discussion featuring some of the authors from The Age of Perplexity: Rethinking the World We Knew, the book published by BBVA through its OpenMind initiative, to share their perspectives on the major transformations currently taking place in our society and the impact they may have on the future of the liberal international order. These are the challenges and opportunities that will define the 21st century.
